Transitioning to the Crime Suppression Analysis and Response Unit

A Division-Based Approach to Community Safety

In 2025, the Community Engagement and Wellbeing Branch (CEWB), formerly a regional structure, transitioned into the Crime Suppression Analysis and Response (CSAR) Unit, a division-based model comprised of three teams: Community and Youth Engagement (CYE), Direct Action Response Team (DART), and Street Crime. Together, these teams integrate prevention, engagement, enforcement, and investigative functions to support proactive public safety.

Developed as part of the Service's transition to the new Crime Suppression Model, the CSAR Unit enables a more localized and responsive approach by addressing division-specific priorities. By combining evidence-based practices with local intelligence, the model improves coordination, supports strategic resource deployment, and strengthens responses to emerging crime trends.

Community and Youth Engagement Team

CYE focuses on community safety and wellbeing while directly supporting crime suppression objectives. Responsibilities include engaging community partners to support patrol investigations involving mental health, homelessness, and vulnerable youth, acting as a liaison with problem locations and businesses, and more.

Direct Action Response Team

DART operates as a proactive, uniform enforcement team. Responsibilities include completing complex investigations, leading operational initiatives such as retail theft operations, managing Liquor Licence and Control Act (LLCA) concerns with partners, conducting offender compliance checks, and supporting warrant executions.

Street Crime Team

The Street Crime Team provides covert, surveillance-based enforcement and investigative support, directly targeting repeat offenders and emerging crime trends aligned with CSAR priorities.

Community Safety & WELLBEING PLAN

The Waterloo Region Community Safety and Wellbeing Plan (CSWP) is a multi-sector, all-of-community approach designed to address significant issues impacting safety and wellbeing in Waterloo Region. By developing collaborative strategies, partner agencies are working to mitigate and prevent risk factors associated with the four CSWP priorities.

In 2025, the CSWP made progress across the Region's four priority areas, which include significant contributions from WRPS members. The Region also welcomed Samina Sami as its new Executive Director, who will lead the update of the plan into its 2026 to 2030 cycle.

Addressing Mental Health & Addictions Needs Together

The Systems Transformation Team brought focus and action to six key areas:

- Frequent Users of Emergency Departments
- Homelessness and Housing
- Supporting People Holistically
- Youth Mental Health and Addictions Prevention
- The HART Hub Waterloo Region
- Data and Evaluation

Intimate Partner Violence, Gender Based Violence, and Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women and Girls

Partners across the region, including members of the Family Violence Project, continue to advance innovative approaches to address these forms of violence. Key progress in 2025 include:

- the release of the Family Violence Project 2025–2028 Strategic Business Plan; and
- the identification of the Early Intervention Program as an evidence-based best practice for preventing repeat incidents of intimate partner violence

- the launch of the WRPS and CSWP #NotInMyCity anti-human trafficking awareness campaign
- a professional development day held in partnership with Wilfrid Laurier University, which brought together the IPV/GBV/MMIWG2S+ and Combatting Hate action tables

Combatting Hate

The action table is represented by more than 30 leaders and members from across the Region. Three priorities were identified for the table, including building system accountability, mapping current programs, and developing a community-wide information campaign. In October 2025, the 'We All Belong Here' campaign was launched across the Region. The WRPS provided grant funding to develop the associated website, which can be found at www.webelongwr.ca.

Creating Safe and Inclusive Spaces

In 2025, a Safe and Inclusive Spaces Action Table was developed with representation from area municipalities, Indigenous organizations, and community organizations. The table aims to collaboratively develop and implement actions that foster safe and inclusive spaces for Indigenous Peoples and equity-deserving communities across Waterloo Region.

Alternative Responses to Mental Health Calls

In 2025, the IMPACT was dispatched 1,202 times (a four per cent increase compared to 2024), equating to three to four daily calls. The five most frequent call types the IMPACT responded to were:

- Mental Health
- Attempt Suicide
- Compassionate to Locate
- Domestic Other and Domestic Dispute
- Proactive Initiative

This accounted for 90 per cent of all the calls the IMPACT attended.

The WRPS and the Canadian Mental Health Association (CMHA) have a long-standing partnership that provides services to individuals in crisis and/or individuals suffering from mental health, addiction, and/or social disorders.

In May 2018, the WRPS and CMHA launched the Integrated Mobile Police and Crisis Team (IMPACT). The IMPACT is staffed by addiction and mental health clinicians who respond to calls in progress with police officers to work towards improved client outcomes. The IMPACT has offices in North, Central, and South police divisions, fostering strong, trusting relationships between IMPACT members and police officers while supporting information sharing and collaboration on complex cases.

In 2025, 29 calls were referred to other mental health support agencies without a police response. For 2026, the WRPS will continue to work closely with the CMHA and other community partners on strategies to better serve and respond to the community's needs.

The Community Mental Health (CMH) team, made up of IMPACT members, were seated in the WRPS' Communications Centre and went live on November 7, 2022. On April 1, 2025, the program was paused due to grant funding ending.

Training and Use OF FORCE

In 2025, the WRPS responded to 342,578 calls for service and conducted 15,618 arrests. During these occurrences, 421 interactions (approximately 0.1 per cent of all occurrences) met the threshold requiring a Use of Force Report. Of those, 13 per cent were initiated by WRPS officers, with the remainder resulting from community requests for assistance (74 per cent), assistance to other agencies (3 per cent), or the completion of warrants (10 per cent).

Use of force encounters are of critical importance due to the impact on the safety of those involved and the trust communities have in police. This is why de-escalation of these situations has, and will continue to be, the cornerstone of the training provided to police officers.

Data on the perceived race of persons involved in incidents that met the threshold for the Use of Force Report began to be gathered and reported on by the WRPS and other Ontario police services at the province's request in 2020.

In an effort to provide the community greater transparency and understanding of use-of-force encounters, all reports to the Waterloo Regional Police Service Board include a short synopsis of each incident and are publicly available on the WRPS website.

The 2025 Use of Force report contains a comprehensive analysis of race-based data and fulfills the WRPS' commitment to incorporating this information into the WRPS Race and Identity-Based Data Collection Strategy.

In 2025, the WRPS responded to 342,578 occurrences and conducted 15,618 arrests.

OUR COMMITMENT TO

Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion

The WRPS continues to advance its Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion (EDI) Strategic Plan (2024 to 2027), a comprehensive framework that guides its efforts to embed equity, diversity, and inclusion across all aspects of the Service. This Plan reflects our commitment to intentional, measurable progress and builds on the foundation established through previous EDI initiatives.

At the core of the Strategic Plan are five organizational commitments that shape our work:

1. Total Community Engagement
2. Diversity-Competent Members
3. Access to the Diversity of Available Talent
4. Leadership Reflecting the Region
5. A Secure and Supportive Workplace

In addition to these commitments, the Plan identifies three priority areas essential to fostering sustainable, respectful, and trusting relationships within our community:

- Reconciliation
- Addressing Systemic Racism and Discrimination
- Combatting Hate

The EDI Strategic Plan represents our ongoing dedication to removing systemic barriers, valuing lived experiences, and strengthening our collective efforts to build a police service that is more inclusive, equitable, and reflective of the diverse community we serve.

ADVANCING COMMUNITY SAFETY:

New Programs and Initiatives

In 2025, the WRPS introduced several new programs and initiatives to strengthen community safety. Guided by community needs and supported by key partnerships, these efforts aimed to enhance trust, improve service delivery, and respond more effectively to emerging challenges. Together, they advanced the WRPS vision that every person in Waterloo Region is safe and feels safe.

Some of these new programs and initiatives include:

- The launch of the Stratified Policing Model aimed at reducing crime and enhancing accountability
- A new registry, called CAMSafe, for security camera locations to assist in investigations
- A partnership with 529 Garage to assist in lost or stolen bicycle recovery efforts
- The implementation of Next Generation 9-1-1
- Signing the 30 Forward Pledge, an initiative that commits to increasing women's representation by 30%

New Stratified Policing Model Aimed at Reducing Crime and Enhancing Accountability

In January 2025, the WRPS launched its Stratified Policing Model, a pioneering approach to proactive evidence-based crime reduction and enhanced accountability.

This innovative approach, the first of its kind to be adopted by a police service in Canada, represents a significant step forward in the WRPS' ongoing commitment to ensuring public safety and upholding community trust and confidence.

In partnership with the co-creators of Stratified Policing, Dr. Roberto Santos and Dr. Rachel Santos of Radford University (Radford, Virginia, USA), the WRPS implemented this crime-reduction business model to address victimization in a comprehensive, strategic manner.

Stratified Policing is a structured, evidence-based approach that focuses on identifying and developing tailored responses for locations with high levels of victimization, for chronic offenders, and for the most serious crimes.

The WRPS' primary goal in implementing the Stratified Policing Model is to reduce crime and victimization while strengthening accountability across the organization. This model provides a comprehensive, multi-layered approach to policing by addressing immediate crime concerns, setting long-term strategies for sustained crime reduction, and ensuring our resources are deployed where they can have the greatest impact.

“By working with Dr. Roberto and Dr. Rachel Santos, we are confident that this model will help us achieve sustainable results. This is not just about responding to crime; it’s about creating a systematic approach that can be sustained over time, with measurable impacts.”

New Registry for Security Camera

Locations to Assist in Investigations

In May 2025, the WRPS launched CAMSafe, a new public safety initiative aimed at strengthening the collaboration between police and the community through a centralized database of privately owned security camera locations.

The free, voluntary program encourages residents and business owners in Waterloo Region to register the locations of their security cameras, such as doorbell cameras, CCTV systems, and other surveillance devices, in a secure database accessible only by police. In the event of a crime or public safety incident, officers can consult the CAMSafe database to identify registered camera locations in the area. If a camera is located near the incident, officers may contact the registered owner and request access to video footage that could assist with the investigation. Participation does not give police direct access to any camera systems; it simply helps them know where cameras are located and whom to contact.

Originally developed and launched by the Belleville Police Service in 2021, CAMSafe has since been adopted by several police services and Ontario Provincial Police detachments across the province. The Belleville Police Service continues to administer the program and oversees all registration audits and information validation.

For more information or to register your camera location, visit www.camsafe.ca.

“CAMSafe is another important tool that helps us work in partnership with the community to enhance public safety. By registering a camera location, residents and business owners can play a direct role in helping prevent and solve crime in their neighbourhoods.”

WRPS Partners with 529 Garage to Assist in Lost or Stolen Bicycle Recovery Efforts

In August 2025, the WRPS was proud to partner with 529 Garage in an effort to help recover and return lost or stolen bicycles to their owners.

529 Garage, a free bicycle registration program, encourages residents to register their bicycles at project529.com by uploading key details, including the bicycle's serial number, photos, and ownership information. If a registered bicycle is stolen, owners can log in to their 529 Garage account to report it and trigger a community-wide alert. This alert notifies other users in the area to be on the lookout, increasing the chances of recovery.

In addition to submitting a report to the WRPS, registering a bike with 529 Garage provides law enforcement with details to aid in recovery.

Police officers also have access to 529 Garage's system, allowing them to match found or seized bikes with their rightful owners.

529 Garage also maintains a public database of found bicycles, which users can monitor for potential matches. If a match is found, the owner can reach out to the person who submitted the tip to begin the recovery process.

Between 2019 and 2024, over 5,400 bikes were reported stolen in Waterloo Region, with 432 successfully recovered. By partnering with 529 Garage, the WRPS is adding another valuable tool to their efforts - one that empowers the community, supports officers, and increases the chances of recovering stolen bicycles.

529 Garage Registrations (Within 50 Kilometres of Waterloo Region)

- 7,780 bikes registered
- 958 total thefts (of bikes registered in program)
- 96 bikes returned
- Estimated property value recovered: $67,200

WRPS Launches

Next Generation 9-1-1

In September 2025, the WRPS was proud to launch Next Generation 9-1-1 (NG9-1-1), marking a significant milestone in the Service's commitment to strengthening public safety and emergency response across Waterloo Region.

NG9-1-1 is a multi-stage initiative designed to modernize the traditional 9-1-1 system with advanced digital technology. While the process for calling 9-1-1 remains unchanged, the new system provides critical improvements, including faster and more accurate caller location and phone number information, enhanced reliability and cybersecurity, expanded backup capabilities in the event of a system failure, and the future ability to support real-time text messaging and other digital technologies.

The WRPS is proud to be one of the first Public Safety Answering Points (PSAPs), or 9-1-1 call centres, in Ontario, and the 25th out of 226 across Canada, to implement

In 2025, the WRPS received 342,578 calls for service.

The Ontario government has provided more than $3.8 million since 2022 to support WRPS' transition to NG9-1-1.

"This advancement ensures that we continue to evolve with the needs of the community while strengthening our ability to keep residents safe."

Mark Crowell, Chief of Police

The WRPS Joins the 30 Forward Pledge

In October 2025, the WRPS joined the 30 Forward Pledge, an international initiative dedicated to building a more inclusive future, focusing on recruiting and retaining women.

Derived from the global 30x30 Pledge, which commits to increasing women's representation by 30% in organizations by 2030, the 30 Forward Pledge looks beyond the next five years. It is tailored for Canadian police services that value a fair and inclusive workforce that better reflects the communities they serve.

Currently, 24 per cent of WRPS sworn members identify as female. The Service's Senior Leadership Team, which includes a combination of both sworn and civilian senior leaders, is made up of 49 members – 25 males and 24 females.

The 30 Forward Pledge not only reaffirms the Service's commitment to recruiting more women but also aims to identify and address cultural or systemic barriers that could affect the promotion and retention of women within the organization.

The WRPS is one of several police organizations across Ontario committing to the 30 Forward Pledge.

“Signing the 30 Forward Pledge is more than a commitment, it’s a reflection of our values. Participation in this will undoubtedly result in a stronger, healthier, and more inclusive police service for our members and for the community.”

Constable Matthew Cabral Receives Ontario Medal of Honour

On February 5, 2025, Constable Matthew Cabral was on patrol in Kitchener when his cruiser's automated license plate recognition system flagged a vehicle registered to a suspended driver.

The suspect saw the police cruiser and fled, running a red light and crashing into another car. The suspect exited and approached Cst. Cabral, threatening to fight. Cst. Cabral deployed his conducted energy weapon (CEW) twice, with no effect. The suspect tried to grab the Cst. Cabral's firearm and then returned to their vehicle, emerging with a hatchet. Cst. Cabral held his ground, issued commands and attempted a gunpoint arrest while keeping the public safe in a busy intersection.

The suspect was eventually subdued with help from a second officer who arrived on scene.

On November 24, 2025, Cst. Matt Cabral was awarded the Ontario Medal for Police Bravery for his quick thinking and courage under pressure, which protected the community during a dangerous and unpredictable encounter.

Thank you, Cst. Cabral, for your unwavering dedication to public safety.

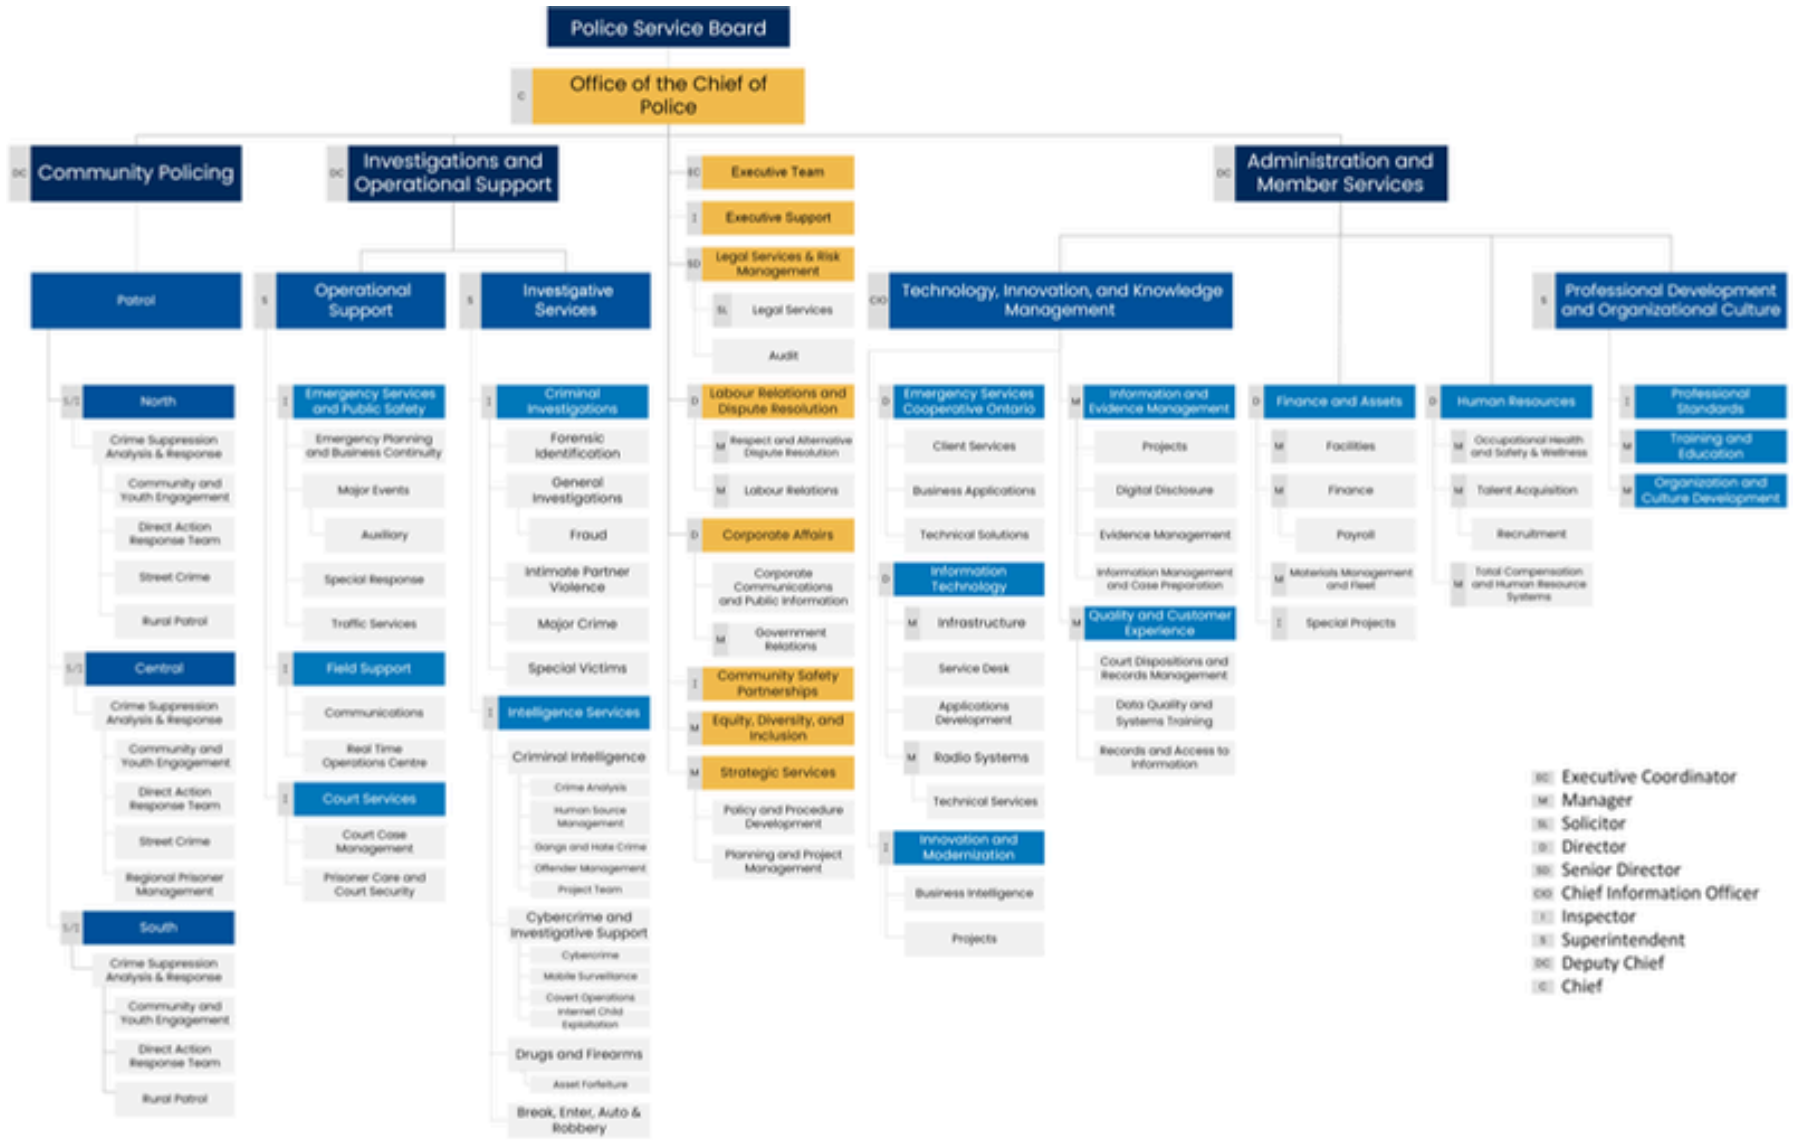

“Every time I respond to a call, I'm a human being first and a police officer second. At the end of the day, that person I'm looking at is someone's son, could be someone's father, and I truly just wanted to ensure that everyone around me, including him, was safe at the end of the day.”

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

and Outreach

Volunteers in Policing: Auxiliary Officers

Throughout 2025, Auxiliary members contributed 16,184 volunteer hours to the community.

The WRPS Auxiliary Unit is composed of community members who support the Service at large-scale events, such as parades, and assist officers in delivering crime prevention programs and operational callouts in search of missing persons.

In 2025, the Auxiliary Unit averaged 85 members and welcomed 18 new dedicated volunteers. They continued with their formal, structured Field Development Program, which helped raise the bar on how Auxiliary members assist the WRPS on an ongoing basis.

Throughout 2025, Auxiliary members contributed 16,184 volunteer hours to the community.

One of the hallmark events that the Unit runs is the annual Stuff-a-Cruiser campaign, which provides toys to children throughout Waterloo Region. In partnership with the Knights of Columbus, the Unit witnessed the magnitude of community generosity in 2025 by collecting nearly $5,000 in cash donations and over 6,200 toys. Over the past 16 years, Stuff-a-Cruiser volunteers have helped collect more than 96,000 toys and over $116,000 for those in need.

Volunteers in Policing: WRPS Band and Chorus

Formed in 1973 by Chief Wilfred Henrich, the Chorus has contributed more than 1,000,000 volunteer hours and raised over $1.8 million for local philanthropic causes.

Ceremonial Band

The WRPS Ceremonial Band is Canada's only wind ensemble (brass and reed) band associated with a police service. The Band provides world-class musical performances to various audiences, representing the WRPS not only in Waterloo Region but also provincially, nationally, and internationally.

The Ceremonial Band was honoured to once again perform at the provincial and national police memorials in 2025 in memory of those who made the ultimate tragic sacrifice to keep communities safe. In addition to police memorials, the Band performed at 21 local engagements, including Remembrance Day ceremonies and public concerts.

Police Chorus

In 2025, the Police Chorus completed 16 performances throughout the community.

Formed in 1973 by Chief Wilfred Henrich, the Chorus has contributed more than 1,000,000 volunteer hours and raised over $1.8 million for local philanthropic causes.

The Chorus includes 51 members, and a dedicated colour party presents official flags at each performance.

Building Connections Through COMMUNITY EVENTS

Community engagement is a key priority of the WRPS' commitment to public safety, trust, and transparency. Through a broad range of internal and external events, the WRPS builds meaningful relationships with its members and the Waterloo Region community, helping to establish trust long before times of crisis.

The WRPS hosts and participates in internal events that strengthen organizational culture and celebrate service. Badging ceremonies mark key milestones for new officers, while initiatives like the Citizens Police Academy foster public understanding of policing. Members also participate in events such as the Polar Plunge and the Law Enforcement Torch Run, supporting charitable causes and reinforcing the WRPS' commitment beyond enforcement.

External events play a critical role in connecting with the public. Each year, the WRPS receives approximately 500 community event requests, highlighting the importance of police presence across the region. Members regularly participate in public education initiatives, community safety booths, fundraisers, and local events, creating opportunities for meaningful engagement, education, and dialogue.

By maintaining a strong presence within the community, the WRPS continues to build trust, encourage collaboration, and strengthen relationships, supporting a safer and more connected community.

This milestone event marked the first time the Gala was held in Southwestern Ontario, bringing together 2SLGBTQIA+ members and allies from across the province to celebrate leadership, inclusion, and community.

The annual Serving with Pride Gala provides a space to recognize those who lead with courage and compassion in advancing equity within workplaces and communities. The sold-out event welcomed 400 guests, including dignitaries, community leaders, and police representatives from across Ontario. The evening also made a meaningful impact, raising $7,500 for the Rainbow Coalition of Waterloo Region (RCWR) Amethyst Community Fund, which supports programs that strengthen 2SLGBTQIA+ communities locally.

Serving With Pride is a volunteer-led, non-profit organization that supports 2SLGBTQIA+ professionals across Canada through advocacy, peer support, and professional development. Its charitable focus extends to youth, with past Gala donations benefiting organizations such as SHIP and Camp fYrefly, which provide essential support and programming for 2SLGBTQIA+ youth.

Ensuring organizational projects implement a consistent change management framework.

Our Connections

Enhancing our internal communication strategy.

Our Resources

Establishing a project management and prioritization strategy.

Online Reporting

Online reporting is a convenient way to contact the WRPS about crime without waiting for an officer to arrive. Even if you think an incident is minor or not likely to be solved, reporting it allows the WRPS to learn where and what crimes are happening. Online reporting has been active since 2012 and applies to certain non-emergency circumstances.

Online reporting experienced its biggest leap in usage between 2017-2018 when Driving Complaints and Fraud became options. Online reporting is currently on a downward trend, with 2025 totals 7.5 per cent lower compared to 2024 and slightly lower than the five-year average.

No.	Call Type	# of Reports in 2025	# of Reports in 2024	Per Cent Change
1	Theft Under $5,000	1,837	2,155	-14.8%
2	Driving Complaint	1,255	1,191	5.4%
3	Fraud (e.g. Internet Fraud)	382	299	27.8%
5	Property Damage (Lost & Found)	332	277	19.8%
5	Property Damage	262	241	8.7%
6	Dispute	36	48	-25%
7	Other Categories Combined	34	23	15%
	Total	4,138	4,480	47.8%

Consistent with previous years, Theft Under $5,000 was the most frequent crime reported online, making up 44 per cent of all reports, though down approximately 15 per cent compared to 2024. The types of theft reported were largely shoplifting (1,252 counts), from a motor vehicle (255 counts), and residential (253 counts). Driving complaints reported online continue to increase year over year making up 30 per cent of all reports. Internet fraud (381 counts), lost property (332 counts), and damage to motor vehicle (137 counts) round out the top five online reports, each increasing slightly.

Make an Online Report

Online reporting is a quick, secure, and convenient way for residents to report non-emergency incidents through the WRPS website. To make an online report, visit:

Internal Investigations and Public Complaints

Pursuant to the Provincial Adequacy Standards and the WRPS procedure, the WRPS provides an annual report to the Police Service Board summarizing 2025 complaints: Public Complaints (allegations from the public about officer misconduct or police services), Chief's Complaints (internally initiated allegations regarding potential misconduct), and Conduct Complaints (allegations, public or internal, of breaches of professional standards or codes of conduct).

Status of Public Complaints	2025	2024

In 2025, the Special Investigations Unit invoked their mandate on eight occasions. All eight matters have resulted in the determination that no reasonable grounds for criminal charges existed.

Demands on Service

What keeps the WRPS busy? Every time the WRPS receives a call for service, an online report, or fields a walk-in request from the public, or when an officer takes action, these are “events” and get recorded in a computer system. The WRPS can then count the number of events and types per year. Not all these events are criminal, but they still create work for members who aim to provide community safety.

Events are recorded in a Computer-Aided Dispatch (CAD) program and assigned an occurrence number; hence, a “CAD event.”

Call Type	2025	2024
Total CAD Occurrences	226,231	254,747
Avg. Number of CAD Occurrences per Day	620	698
Avg. Number of CAD Occurrences per Hour	26	29
New CAD Occurrences Every...	2 Minutes, 19 Seconds	2 Minutes, 4 Seconds

Police are typically busy with the same top ten types of events year over year, and this was mostly true across 2025. The way the WRPS handles certain call types has made a difference in 9-1-1 errors, compassionate to locate, and filed 9-1-1 calls, all of which show lower CAD volume than last year. The other three call types with fewer officer dispatches include Vehicle Stops, Motor Vehicle Collisions with Property Damage, and Theft Under $5,000. For the fourth year in a row, Proactive Initiatives has been ranked among the Top 10 event types and is climbing.

2025 Top Top CAD Occurrences	Frequency	Per Hour	New CAD Event Every...Minute	% Change
Administrative Notice ¹ (9-1-1 Error)	35,710	4	15	-14%
Vehicle Stop	20,357	2	26	-5%
Proactive Initiative	15,070	2	35	30%
Motor Vehicle Collision - Property Damage	13,843	2	38	-12%
Compassionate to Locate	10,191	1	52	-49%
Bylaw Complaint	9,642	1	55	6%
Theft Under $5,000	9,069	1	58	-3%
Filed 9-1-1 Call (to Fire or Ambulance)	7,560	1	70	-26%
Domestic Dispute	6,363	1	83	0%
Administrative/Routine Detail	6,303	1	83	0%

¹ Total CAD occurrences are not the same as Total Calls for Service. Online report volume has been added to total CAD occurrences.

Citizen Generated Calls for Service

Citizen generated calls for service are exactly how they sound. A member of the community calls in, and the WRPS dispatches an officer(s) to respond. These numbers are a good way to show how often the public asks police for help and what they are asking them to help with.

Most Frequent Citizen Generated Calls for Service

In 2025, Compassionate to Locate calls (a call to check on the wellbeing of an individual when there is concern for their safety or health) remained the most common call type. Public reports of unwanted person incidents decreased, and mental health calls continued their downward trend, falling out of the top ten calls.

No.	Call Type	# of Calls in 2025	# of Calls in 2024	Per Cent Change
1	Compassionate to Locate	9,579	19,549	-51%
2	Bylaw Complaint	8,789	8,675	1.3%
3	Intimate Partner Violence	5,929	6,028	-1.6%
4	Theft Under $5,000	5,610	5,542	1.2%
5	Unwanted Person	5,576	6,797	-18%
6	Driving Complaint	5,284	5,381	-1.8%
7	Dispute	4,148	4,134	0.3%
8	Domestic Other	3,135	3,079	1.8%
9	Alarm	2,976	2,603	14.3%
10	Suspicious Person	2,614	2,974	2%

Division	% of Citizen Generated Calls	# of Calls in 2025	# of Calls in 2024	Per Cent Change
North	29.8%	30,141	34,706	-13.2%
Central	37.0%	37,429	44,206	-15.3%
South	27.1%	27,402	31,022	-11.7%
Rural	6.1%	6,172	6,704	-7.9%
Total	100%	101,144	116,638	-13.3%

The decline in citizen-generated calls for service in 2025 reflects procedural changes rather than reduced demand. The implementation of Next Generation 9-1-1 improved efficiency through measures such as single callbacks and automated text follow-ups to disconnected or non-responsive calls, resulting in faster response times, fewer unnecessary dispatches, and reduced call volumes.
